

28th November 2013

Dear Alan

The third round of supplies was such a challenging task in order to provide relief to the victims of All Saint Church because the security risks were escalating day by day due to protests against NATO. On the other hand the poor victims were waiting for blankets & other items therefore after the long consultation with The Most Rev. Alan we were able to choose Wednesday 27 November 2013 to take supplies for fractured & wounded victims, which include blankets, colostomy bags, medical foams & etc. It was very heartbreaking to seeing the victims as they are in the phase of missing their dears & the gaps twisted in their social lives only depict sobbing, suffering & crying . On reaching the house of innocent Mehak whose age is 5 years; we find the painful remarks that she has some shells inside of her head. Therefore her face & nerves are getting hardness everyday thus she is in state of great pain. Mehak has lost her father in carnage who was only source of support. Now she is directed to approach Lahore to consult with doctors & for better health care. Rev. Alan was very kind to pray for her healing and restorations she also thanked for sending blankets for her.

Omair who was very happy on last Christmas as his father bought lots of Gifts for him today he is singing a gospel song with humid eyes to give hope to his widow mother & three sisters, That "A long night of bloodshed is going to end & Jesus will take them under his wings don't cry don't cry". Rev. Alan also heard his gospel song and I could imagine it touched his heart very deep as it made everybody cry. Omair father was also a gospel singer but today his family is waiting for someone's help as they have already sold out all the musical instruments of their beloved father to live & the top of their room is very frail and it call fall anytime but they are sleeping under this risk. Rev. Alan was very kind to pray for this helpless family. They also thanked Rev. Alan & all prayer partners for praying them and standing with them shoulder to shoulder. Blanket & medical foam was also provided to them by team. Sumbal is also moving towards her good health but her shoulder will be reattached after six months but still she suffers with pain. She thanked everybody for sending blanket for her. Upon asking a question how she will celebrate Christmas Eve, she had tears in her eyes as she is going to miss her elder sister who is no more. There are such stories in every family as Christmas appealing them more for their dear ones & lives that are no more.

Team worked over 7 hours and visiting door to door even in some dangerous areas like Phandu to deliver supplies, the same were also provided in the slums of Kohati, Lahori and Mission hospital. All victims thanked the team & Rev. Alan of Saint Philip & James Church & all prayer partners for their great endeavors of sending supplies for them. We had limited supplies for 30 victims but we had few more requests of blankets, medical foam, heaters, colostomy bags & etc. There are many victims who are still waiting for kind response of someone to help them. Rev. Alan also spoke to team and thanked them for their hard work to complete this errand. Team also thanked Bath churches for this Nobel opportunity to help these victims they also thanked all prayer partners & supporters who made this project successful. The consequences of twin suicide attack are very prominent on the faces of victims who are imposed to live widow, orphan or without siblings. As mothers are missing their sons, sisters are missing their brothers, fathers are missing their daughters none of them has any plan to celebrate Christmas because they are no more to whom with they use to go for shopping's and get gifts. This is a big question mark on the face Christian society we all are going to celebrate Christmas & others will only cry on that day because on this Christmas their lives are completely changed. Their Christmas is only subject to loneliness & long harbored pains, who will greet them with Gifts is question which has no answer yet?

Sincerely in Christ!
